Preface

The first agriculture minister of independent India, Dr. Punjabrao Deshmukh marked the beginning of progress in the field of agriculture for making India self-sufficient in food grains and for India's economic development. After Bhausaheb Late Annasaheb Shinde Former Union State Minister of Agriculture & Hon'ble Sharadchandraji Pawar, Former Union Minister of Agriculture did the remarkable job for the real development in the field of agriculture & shaped Bhausaheb dreams. Bhausaheb did in the field of agriculture, land reform, construction of canals and dams. Irrigation facilities were constructed by constructing large dams, factories for production of seed fertilizers and pesticides were set up, agricultural colleges and universities were set up across the country to place more emphasis on agricultural training and research, modern laboratories were set up for research. He had set up the Agricultural Produce Market Committee (APMC) to ensure that farmers' goods get a fair market price. The use of modern technology in agriculture to create agri-entrepreneurs, by organizing agricultural demonstrations of new technologies, machinery, livestock, etc., by showing the general farmers the idea of new experiments, shows that the agricultural sector and farmers have been greatly developed. It is because of their work at the country and state level that agriculture has developed today. The country has become self-sufficient in food grains and fruits, vegetables and milk products are being exported in large quantities. This is the work of the late Dr. Punjabrao Alias Bhausaheb Deshmukh. As part of their work, the training program is aimed at developing entrepreneurship among students and farmers, interviewing agri-entrepreneurs who are making progress by setting up agro-based industries at the local level and imparting guidance to others.
